About the Canadian Red Cross

The Canadian Red Cross Society is a non-profit, humanitarian organization dedicated to improving the situation of the most vulnerable in Canada and throughout the world. The Canadian Red Cross is a National Society and member of the International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement—this includes the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC), the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (Federation) and the over 185 National Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies.

Its mission is to improve the lives of vulnerable people by mobilizing the power of humanity in Canada and around the world. It provide a wide range of assistance to millions of people in Canada through health services, injury prevention (such as water safety and first aid), violence and abuse prevention, and by responding to and preparing for disasters. The Red Cross also help the world's most vulnerable populations, including victims of armed conflict and communities destroyed by devastating disasters, through its international programs, including relief to the Japan Earthquake -Asia Pacific Tsunami.
